Seventy-five Indians attacked a surveying party of the Union Pacific railroad on Bitter Creek, on the 23d inst.

tally wounding P. T. Brown, the engineer in charge of the party. Brown died on the 23d. The Indians eventually have possession of the road between Fort Saunders and Fort Bridger.

The investigation ordered by General Grant in the alleged brutal whipping of citizens by soldiers at Fort Sedgwick has closed. The testimony is conclusive as to the whipping of citizens by a sergeant, for selling whiskey to the men under him. Lacerations of the flesh and

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT CINCINNATI.
SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE HERALD.
 CINCINNATI, July 25, 1907.
 9 o'Clock P. M.
 What bids fair to be a terrible tragedy occurred here this evening. Two of Newcomb's band, which has been performing at Wood's Theatre for the last night; he had been quarrelling for some time, and the feud resulted in a probably fatal shooting affair. The parties are Norman Banford, two of the leading misanthrope Newcomers here. They came over from England about three months ago, and their friends are all here. A few days ago, when they quarrelled, Norman cut Banford off filthy Turkish practices. This evening about six o'clock, Banford entered a billiard saloon at the Grand Hotel, where he was drinking wine and aiming at his breast, said, "You must retreat before I count three, or I shall shoot you—one, two, three." Norman drew a pistol and fired a wild shot, passing through his enemy's left breast, just below the heart, inflicting a wound which will probably prove fatal before morning. Banford has been taken to the City Hospital. He would make no statement as to the cause of the quarrel, nor does he give any performance to-night.

CONSECRATION OF THE BISHOP OF FLORIDA.

Interesting Services at Trinity Church.
The consecration of the Rev. John Freeman Young Bishop of Florida took place yesterday at Trinity church. The service, which began at eleven A. M., continued until three P. M., was participated in by over one hundred members of the Episcopal clergy, besides six bishops, viz.:—Bishops Hopkins of Vermont, O'Connell of New Jersey, Wilmer of Louisiana, Gregg

Texas, Cummings of Kentucky, and Bishop Payne, Missionary Bishop of Africa. The presiding bishop was Bishop Hopkins, and the candidate was presented by Bishops Odenheimer and Gregg. The sermon was delivered by Bishop Wilmer, and was a most able definition of the Book of Common Prayer, and of the position and prospective episcopacy of the Episcopal Church. The Book of Common Prayer was the offering of the freedom of ages, and was only adopted after having been reviewed sixteen times, and after several thing upon which the Church had not considered in its capacity to repel external assaults, harmonize internal strife, and to develop the spiritual life and life as against a cold ritualism. When our Bible and her ancient creeds, and combined doctrines and duties, the Church refuses to bind her members to any particular system of theology. The Church was catholic and progressive, although conservative, and the Book of Common Prayer could never exclude the hell that she had to face.

all men. More might have made it uncatchable and less might have rendered it unbound. The danger of ritualism was in obscuring the sense of God's presence in symbolism, but form was essential to uniformity among diverse lands and to continuance during different times.

In addressing the candidate the Bishop alluded to the fact that a diocese in the extreme North and one in the extreme South had each recently knocked at the gates

Besides the clergy in surplices, some thirty others were in attendance, and the combined choirs of Trinity and St. John's and Trinity chapels participated. In the process of the service, observed on account of color was the Rector of color church in Mulberry street.

Bishop Young was born in the state of Maine, in the year 1829, receiving his collegiate course in Maine, in the year 1850, and his theological in Virginia. His ordination as deacon was in 1845, and as priest in 1846, in St. John's church, Tallahassee, which is to be the Bishop's cathedral.

The beautiful and impressive consecration service with its procession of chorists and clergy and white robes, and the solemn imposition of hands, was witnessed by a large number of the congregation.

THE NEW YORK STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

as any of the previous ones. The teachers seem to be upon the principle that they have come here to accomplish important results, and that the sessions of the association must not be neglected by them; hence the hall was crowded to repletion, notwithstanding the oppressive heat of the past two days. The proceedings to-day consisted of the reading of a paper by Dr. J. A. D. on a curriculum of studies for ladies' colleges; one on natural science for common schools and academies; one on the relation of principal to assistants; and one on gauge; one on the mode in which children acquire language; one on the teacher's relations to the changes and irregularities in language; a report on the aims and motives of the teachers, and addresses by Herrock Johnson, of Pittsburg, and P. P. Bishop, of Auburn.

The session this evening is honored by the presence of Governor Fenton, who will deliver a short address just before the adjournment, which will take place, nine o'clock to-night.
